WELCOME

HERE'S A BRIEF INTRODUCTION TO IAH AND WHAT MEMBERSHIP CAN BRING TO YOU

WHO WE ARE

The International Association of Hydrogeologists (IAH/AIH) is a scientific and educational charitable organisation for scientists, engineers, water managers and other professionals working in the fields of groundwater resource planning, management and protection.

Founded in 1956, it has grown to a world-wide membership of more than 4000 individuals.

We welcome into membership all those, from whatever discipline or level of technical knowledge, who are directly or indirectly engaged in study, research or management of groundwater and want to improve their understanding and support the aims of the Association.

Companies and research organisations can apply for corporate membership. We also welcome corporate sponsors.

WHAT WE DO

Our mission is to further the understanding, wise use and protection of groundwater resources throughout the world.

We endeavour to raise awareness of groundwater issues and work with national and international agencies to promote the use of groundwater to ensure ready access to safe drinking water. IAH also promotes the protection of aquifers against pollution, the improvement of aquifer storage and the management of groundwater resources to assure the sustainability of groundwater-dependent ecosystems.

IAH is truly a world-wide association, its efforts being made through its National Chapters, scientific or topic based Commissions and Networks; its international team of Council members, its UK based Secretariat and, of course, through its membership spread right around the world.

MEMBERSHIP

Being part of IAH gives you great introductions within the groundwater-related professions. If you have an interest in groundwater science, engineering, resource planning and all related fields, you would benefit from IAH membership.

GOOD REASONS TO JOIN US

1. You can connect with other hydrogeologists and groundwater-related specialists from around the world – the IAH “family”.
2. You will receive an annual subscription to Hydrogeology Journal, one of the major cited international journals dealing with groundwater issues.
3. You benefit from a range of IAH member discounts, competitions and perks, including:
 - discounted registration fees at IAH congresses and meetings;
 - substantial discount on publishing fees for “open choice” submissions to our Hydrogeology Journal;
 - 30% discount on IAH books via Taylor and Francis;
 - 40% discount on the Springer journal “Sustainable Water Resources Management” and 20% discount on all Springer English-language books.
4. You can participate in our wide range of special interest groups, known as Commissions and Networks (including an Early Career Hydrogeologists’ Network).
5. Many countries have a National Chapter, providing professional contacts, news and events closer to home.
6. You can join our mentoring scheme to gain valuable experience and knowledge – either as a giver or receiver of advice.
7. You can help and learn, as IAH strengthens its efforts in educational and professional development.
8. IAH is the only global organisation which cares passionately about the proper use, protection and knowledge of groundwater. Support us in our mission and goals – help make our plans a reality and the voices of about groundwater heard.

STUDENTS/EARLY CAREERS:

We offer special student rates - and then a discount as you begin your careers. Whether you are looking for information for your latest assignment or are wanting to make the right choices after your course, IAH membership can help. Also you can share thoughts, ideas and socialise with like minded peers in our Early Career Hydrogeologists’ Network (ECHN) and participate in our mentoring scheme.

HOW TO JOIN

You can join and pay your membership fees online through our secure website <http://www.iah.org>

or

Complete the information required on the reverse of this form and send a cheque or money order to:

PO Box 4130

Goring

Reading RG8 6BJ, UK.

Membership runs for a calendar year; members joining during the year will be sent back copies of publications they have missed. Membership fees are paid as a single annual subscription. There is no initial joining fee.

SPONSORED MEMBERSHIP

IAH also operates a scheme whereby groundwater specialists in low income countries who are unable to join due to practical or economic reasons can receive sponsored membership. Full details of the scheme can be found on our website. To support a member in a low income country by paying extra on the fee please tick the box on the application form. Individuals may also indicate interest in receiving sponsorship on the form. Read more: <https://iah.org/join-us/sponsorship-scheme>.
